

PROGRAM STUDI PENDIDIKAN BAHASA INGGRIS
FBS UNIVERSITAS KANJURUHAN MALANG
SEMESTER GANJIL –2016/2017
UJIAN AKHIR SEMESTER

Course : Advanced English Grammar
Code : ENG446
Lecturer : Uun Muhaji, M.Pd.

Adverb Clauses of Condition

A. Whether or not and even if. Use the given information to complete the sentences.

1. Sometimes I'm successful, and sometimes I'm failed. It doesn't matter. I always keep trying.
 - a. I keep trying whether or not
 - b. I keep trying even if
2. You might like the food, or you might not. It doesn't matter. You have to eat it.
 - c. You have to eat the food whether or not.
 - d. Even if you have to eat it.

B. In case and in the even that. Use in case or in the even that to show the relationship of the two sentences in each number below.

3. Jack probably won't call, but maybe he will. If so, please tell him that I'm at the library.
4. I will be here on time, but maybe I won't. If so, please wait in this room.

C. Unless. Complete the following sentences.

5. You have to cook for your own lunch unless.....
6. Certain species of animals will soon become extinct unless.....

D. Only if. Use the given information to complete the sentences.

7. I have to get a job. Then I will have enough money to go to the university.
Only if I get a job
8. Don't borrow money from friends if you don't absolutely have to.
You can borrow money from friends only if

Changing Time Clauses to Modifying Adverbial Phrases.

E. Change the adverb clauses to modifying adverbial phrases if possible.

9. After I read the chapter four times, I finally understood the author's theory.
10. While Jack was trying to sleep last night, a mosquito kept buzzing in his ear.

11. When I looked in my wallet, I discovered I didn't have enough money to pay my restaurant bill.

F. Complete the sentences. Punctuate carefully.

12. After having finished my

13. Having heard a strange noise in the other room

Connectives: Cause and Effect.

G. Showing cause and effect. Combine the two ideas below by using the given words.

She failed in the exam. She didn't study hard.

14. Because

15. Therefore

16. Because of

17. Consequently

18. Due to

H. Showing cause and effect. Combine the sentences by using so....that or such....that.

19. I've met too many people in the last few days. I can't possibly remember all of their names.

20. Olga did poor work. She was fired from her job.

GOOD LUCK**